Testing Python Project

Hello welcome myself aakansha agrawal I am here to test my python project which I have created as I am not getting why the audio is not working so to check this I am creating this pdf file as ans example so that I can understand its a problem in file or the project now I am not getting what to write so I will copy from google.

Tkinter doesn't have any support to do what you want. You'll have to find some sort of platform-specific library to alter what is shown in the window border. Your only other option is to turn off the window border provided by your OS with overrideredirect, and then create your own border with whatever controls you want. This requires a lot of work because you also have to write the code for moving and resizing the window, but it's possible.
